

Stakeholder vs. Shareholder capitalism: The great debate

Professor A. Lucian Bebchuk (Harvard Law School) and Professor Colin Mayer (Saïd Business School, Oxford)

Professor A. Lucian Bebchuk and Professor Colin Mayer, debate one of the great controversies in business today – should it be governed and run for shareholder or stakeholder interests? Following the Business Roundtable declaration on the purpose of the corporation in August of last year, the shareholder primacy view of the firm has been thrown into question around the world. Should it be or should it remain as the dominant concept of the firm?

Leer másVer videoPaper

“Desde IGS contribuimos a la mejora de las prácticas de gobierno de empresas y organizaciones”

Leadership in Risk Management: European Report 2020

Research Report by Board Agenda, Mazars & INSEAD

They asked C-suite executives and non-executives—including chairs, chief executives and group finance directors—about their preparedness for a pandemic in the wake of the Covid-19 crisis.

Leer más

Las cotizadas podrán premiar con doble voto a sus accionistas estables

Diario Expansión

El Consejo de Ministros de España da luz verde a las acciones de lealtad para evitar el sesgo cortoplacista del mercado y otorga el derecho a las empresas de identificar a sus inversores.

Leer másExpansión

A Roadmap for Outlining ESG Risks & Opportunities

Inside America's Boardrooms

In this episode, John Truzzolino, Director of Business Solutions at Donnelley Financial Solutions (DFIN), shares key takeaways from a recent white paper: ESG Risks and Opportunities: Understanding the ESG Landscape

Ver videoLeer white paper

Our Approach to Sustainability

Sandra Boss (Global Head of Investment Stewardship at BlackRock, Inc.)

This past January, BlackRock wrote to clients about how we are making sustainability central to the way we invest, manage risk, and execute our stewardship responsibilities. This commitment is based on our conviction that climate risk is investment risk and that...

Leer más

Spotlight on Boards

Martin Lipton (Founding Partner of Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz)

The ever-evolving challenges facing corporate boards prompt periodic updates to a snapshot of what is expected from the board of directors of a public company—not just the legal rules, or the principles published by institutional investors and various corporate and investor associations...

Leer más

Toward Common Metrics and Consistent Reporting of Sustainable Value Creation

Prepared in collaboration with Deloitte, EY, KPMG and PwC

This report proposes a common, core set of ESG metrics and recommended disclosures that companies could use to align their mainstream reporting.

Leer más